ATTENTION!

TEACHERS, TECHNOLOGY COORDINATORS, ADMINISTRATORS

More and more schools are adopting tablet computers in their programs, and the explosion of tablets is changing the way we teach and students learn. Teachers need to know about this new dynamic, so NJAET is providing a FREE opportunity to learn more about how to use tablet computers in the classroom at tabcamp NJAET.

tabcamp NJAET will be held at Stone Bridge Middle School in Allentown, NJ on April 27, 2013. The school is close to the NJ Turnpike, I-195, I-295, and NJ Routes 130 and 206 in Central NJ. tabcamp NJAET will include a light breakfast and light lunch.

Since this is an open-conference, there will be plenty of spontaneous events. As registrants arrive, those who would like to share their knowledge sign up to lead informal sessions. Some sessions may have short presentations, while others may be conversations among participants about their favorite apps or strategies to use tablet computers. There is also a lot to learn just by talking with other participants.

We hope you will be able to attend this exciting event. Stay tuned for more details as we get closer to the conference. www.njaet.org/njaet/tabcamp
